

Terms and Conditions

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)

Upon full and final payment, all intellectual property rights, including but not limited to the website design, Webflow account, development code, and related materials, will be transferred to <client's name>. <client's name> will have full ownership and rights to use, modify, reproduce, and distribute the website and its components without limitation.

Timing of Intellectual Property Transfer

All intellectual property rights related to the design and development of the website will be transferred to <client's name> upon the receipt of the final payment. Until the final payment is made, the intellectual property remains the property of <designer's name>.

Third-Party Intellectual Property

<designer's name> guarantees that all work delivered as part of this project will not infringe on the intellectual property rights of any third party.

GDPR Compliance

<designer's name> will ensure that the website complies with GDPR regulations, including the implementation of a cookie consent banner. The client will be responsible for providing a descriptions of the cookies used on the website.

Governing Law

This agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of <country>.